Spelling Rules and Strategies

Learning these spelling rules can help you spell many words.

1. When words end in silent e, drop the e when adding an ending that begins with a vowel. (save + ed = saved)
2. When a base word ends with a consonant followed by y, change the y to i when adding the ending. (story + es = stories)
3. When a base word ends with a vowel followed by y, do not change the ending when adding suffixes or endings. (day = days)
4. When a one-syllable word ends in one vowel followed by one consonant, double the consonant before adding an ending that begins with a vowel. (run + ing = running; drop + ed = dropped)
5. The letter q is always followed by u. (quick)
6. No English words end in j, q, or v.
7. Add -s to most words to form plurals or to change the tense of verbs. Add -es to words ending in x, z, s, sh, or ch. (map = maps; bus = buses; wish = wishes; fox = foxes)

Use these tips to help you become a better speller.

1. Learn about sound-alike words such as hear and here. Be sure you use the right one.
2. Use spell-check on a computer. Spell-checkers are not perfect! If you write a word that sounds like the word you need, spell-check will not catch the mistake.
3. Think of a word that rhymes with the new word. Rhyming words often have the same spelling pattern. (b + and = band; h + and = hand)
4. Use words you know how to spell to help spell new words. Word beginnings and endings can help. (star + bone = stone)
5. Make up clues to help you remember the spelling. ("What you know is OK." K begins know.))
6. Break the word into word parts or syllables. (be cause)
7. Look for a smaller word in a new word to help you write the new word. (heard has hear in it)
8. Word families have words with the same endings. Use word families to help you spell new words. (pen, ten)
9. Use the dictionary to look up spellings of words.
10. Study each letter in words that do not match spelling patterns or rules. Say and write the words carefully.
11. Think of when you have seen the word before. Think of how it looked. Write the word in different ways to see which one looks correct. (fal, faul, fall)
12. Keep a Personal Word List in your Spelling Journal. Write words you have trouble spelling.

Play

A play is a story that is written to be acted out. Characters use actions and words, called dialogue, to tell the story.

A play has a title

Jack and the Beanstalk

A play has a cast of characters

Characters: JACK
MOTHER
TESSY THE COW
OLD MAN
GIANT

The setting tells where and when the play takes place.

Setting: Long ago in a small village

An act is one part of a play

Act I

Scene I: The play begins in Jack's house. Jack and his mother are sitting near an empty fireplace. Tessy is chewing Mother's straw hat.

A character's words are written after his or her name.

MOTHER (grabbing her hat away from Tessy)
You must sell the cow, Jack, so we can buy something to eat.

JACK No, Mother, Tessy is the only friend I have.

TESSY (nodding her head) Moo.

JACK But, Mother...

MOTHER Don't you "but, Mother" me. The cow goes or I go.

Stage directions in () tell how the characters move and act.

TESSY (pushing Mother out of the door) Mooooo!

MOTHER Get this cow away from me!

Practice Think of characters from a story you like. Think about what they do and say. Then write the beginning of the story as a play.

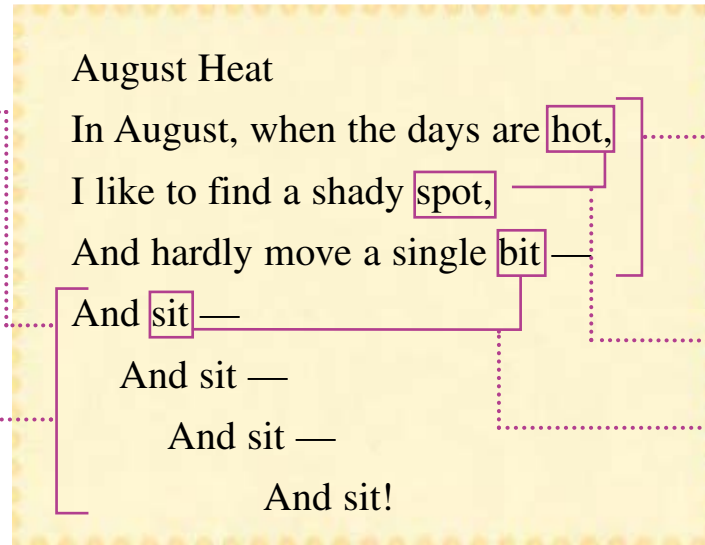

Poem

In a poem, words are used in special ways to help you imagine an idea or a subject. A poem is different from other writing. It has a special sound and form.

Repeated words help stress an important idea in this poem.

The way that lines of this poem are written helps show that an action takes place over a period of time.

Some poems have more than one part, or stanza. This poem has one stanza.

Some poems rhyme. The words hot and spot, bit and sit rhyme in this poem.

GUIDELINES FOR WRITING A POEM

- Choose a fun or interesting object or idea.
- Write words that make a picture of the object or idea.
- Do you want your poem to rhyme? Do you want an idea to repeat? Use rhyming words or repeated words in your poem.
- How many stanzas will your poem have? Write as many stanzas and lines as you want.
- Give your poem a title.

Practice Look around your classroom or outside. Choose an object or an idea to write a poem about. Then write the poem and draw a picture to go with it.

Business Letter

A business letter is a special kind of letter. It is more formal than a friendly letter. You can write a business letter to a company or to a person.

The heading gives the writer's address and the date.

140 Allen Street
Dallas, Texas 75200
March 4, 20__

The inside address gives the name and address of the person to whom you are writing.

Mrs. Rita Montez, President
Montez Pet Food
600 Park Lane
Dallas, Texas 75230

Dear Mrs. Montez:

The greeting includes Dear and the name of the person. Use a colon after the name.

I would like to enter my cat in your "Perfect Cat Contest." His name is Tiger. He loves your food. I think my cat's friendly face should be on boxes and cans of your cat food.

I am sending you a picture of Tiger. If you like him, you can write to me. You can also call me at 555-4495.

The body of the letter tells what you want to say.

Thank you.

Yours truly,

Alexis Wilson
Alexis Wilson

In the closing, use a capital letter for the first word only. Use a comma after the closing.

The signature is the signed name of the writer. Print or type the name underneath the signature.

Practice Think of something you like about your school. Write a business letter to your principal.

Research Report

A research report gives information about a subject. You find facts for the report from sources such as encyclopedias, books, magazines, and the Internet.

Write a title for your report.

Add details that tell more about the main idea.

Use connecting words to go from one idea to the next.

Bats

Bats are very interesting animals. They are the only mammals that can fly. They come out at night and use echoes to help them hunt for food.

Bats eat many insects. Also, some bats help scatter plant seeds. Bats are important in nature. Because of this, people should protect them.

Write a main idea for each paragraph.

Bring your report to a close with a good ending.

GUIDELINES FOR WRITING A REPORT

- Choose a topic that you find interesting.
- List questions you have about the topic.
- Do research. Use different sources. You may need to go to the library.
- Take notes on index cards.
- List your sources at the end of your report.

Practice What topic do you want to learn more about? Write a research report about that topic. Share your report with the class.

- 52 Incomplete Sentences
- 54 Confusing Plurals and Possessives
- 56 Lack of Subject-Verb Agreement
- 58 Incorrect Verb Forms
- 60 Incorrect Use of Pronouns
- 62 Incorrect Use of Adjectives

Incomplete Sentences

- A sentence is a group of words that tells a complete thought.
- An incomplete sentence does not tell a complete thought.

Problem 1

An incomplete sentence that does not have a predicate

Incomplete Sentence: My best friend.

What about my best friend?

Solution 1

What is or what happens is called the predicate of the sentence. You must add a predicate to this incomplete sentence to make it a complete sentence.

Complete Sentence: My best friend plays on my team.

Problem 2

An incomplete sentence that does not have a subject

Incomplete Sentence: Warm up first.

Who warms up first?

Solution 2

Who or what is called the subject of the sentence. You must add a subject to this incomplete sentence to make it a complete sentence.

Complete Sentence: We warm up first.

Problem 3

An incomplete sentence that does not have a subject or a predicate

Incomplete Sentence: At ten o'clock.

Who is
this about?
What happened?

Solution 3

You must add a subject and a predicate to this incomplete sentence to make it a complete sentence.

Complete Sentence: Our soccer game starts at ten o'clock.

Practice Write the incomplete sentences correctly. Add a subject, a predicate, or a subject and a predicate.

1. The game is over. Wins the first match.
2. The coaches smile. Proud of us.
3. Both teams line up. All the players.
4. I run to Mom and Dad. A big hug.
5. I like soccer. A great sport.

Confusing Plurals and Possessives

- A plural noun names more than one person, place, or thing.
- A possessive noun shows who or what owns or has something. A possessive noun needs an apostrophe.

Problem 1

Using an apostrophe in a plural noun

Incorrect: The kitten's are so cute.

Is more than one kitten cute?

Solution 1

A plural noun does not need an apostrophe (').

Correct: The kittens are so cute.

Problem 2

Leaving out the apostrophe in a singular possessive noun

Incorrect: The dogs name is Spike.

How do you show that the name belongs to one dog?

Solution 2

You need to add an apostrophe (') and -s to a singular noun to make it possessive.

Correct: The dog's name is Spike.

Problem 3

Leaving out the apostrophe in a plural possessive noun

Incorrect: The horses names are Rocket and Jet.

How do you show that the names belong to two horses?

Solution 3

A plural possessive noun shows what more than one person, place, or thing has. You need to add an apostrophe (') to most plural nouns to make them possessive.

Correct: The horses' names are Rocket and Jet.

Practice Write the sentences correctly. Add apostrophes that are needed. Take out apostrophes that are not needed.

1. Birds make good pets. My two sister's have pet birds.
2. My sisters' birds are small. The birds cages are big.
3. Parakeets are cute. Both bird's are parakeets.
4. Ann's bird has blue feathers. Amys bird is green.
5. Some birds talk. Both girls' have birds that talk.

Lack of Subject-Verb Agreement

- In a sentence, a present-tense verb must be singular if the subject is singular.
- Do not add -s or -es to a present-tense verb that tells about more than one person or thing.

Problem 1

Using a plural verb with a singular subject

Incorrect: Jack take notes.

Is the subject one or more than one?

Solution 1

You need to add -s or -es to the present-tense verb to make the verb and the subject agree.

Correct: Jack takes notes.

Problem 2

Using a singular verb with a plural subject or I or you

Incorrect: The girls adds trees and grass.

How do you make the verb agree with its subject?

Solution 2

When the subject of a sentence is more than one person or thing or I or you, do not add -s or -es to a present-tense verb.

Correct: The girls add trees and grass.

Problem 3

Using a singular verb when a subject has two nouns joined by and

Incorrect: Sam and Lisa draws cars.

How many nouns are in the subject?

Solution 3

When the subject of a sentence has two nouns joined by and, you do not add -s or -es to a present-tense verb. Take out -s or -es to make the subject and verb agree.

Correct: Sam and Lisa draw cars.

Practice Write the sentences correctly. Make the subject and verb agree.

1. Everyone cleans up. Miss Jones help us.
2. Jen and Tina gather the brushes. Ted and Al washes them.
3. I put away the scissors. You closes the jar of paste.
4. The boys study the mural. The girls looks, too.
5. You say, "What a great mural!" I likes it a lot.

Incorrect Verb Forms

- The verbs have and be have special forms in the present tense and in the past tense.
- Some verbs do not add -ed in the past tense.
- An apostrophe (') takes the place of the letters that are left out when two words are combined.

Problem 1

Using the incorrect form of be or have

Incorrect Form of be: We is going to the pond today.

What present-tense form of be goes with We?

Solution 1

You need to use the form of have or be that agrees with the subject of the sentence and helps show the action.

Correct Form of be: We are going to the pond today.

Problem 2

Forming the past tense of irregular verbs incorrectly

Incorrect Form of Irregular Verb:
I runned all the way home.

What is the past form of run—runned or ran?

Solution 2

You need to use the special forms of the irregular verbs.

Correct Form of Irregular Verb: I ran all the way home.

Problem 3

Leaving out the apostrophe in a contraction

Incorrect Contraction:

Our town doesnt have an ice rink.

What takes the place of the left-out letter in doesnt?

Solution 3

A contraction is a short form of two words.

You need to add an apostrophe (') to take the place of the letters that are left out.

Correct Contraction: Our town doesn't have an ice rink.

Practice Write the sentences. Be sure to write each verb correctly.

1. Mom is coming to the pond. We were leaving now.
2. I have skated for two years. Mom have helped me a lot.
3. Mom did a spin for me. I gived it a try.
4. The spin isn't so easy. I didnt get dizzy.
5. My friends saw me. They sayed, "Good for you!"

Incorrect Use of Pronouns

- Use I and me to tell about yourself.
- Use we and us to tell about yourself and another person.
- Some contractions and possessive pronouns sound alike.

Problem 1

Using me or us as the subject

Incorrect: Dad, Ben, and me fix breakfast.

Which sounds right: “I fix” or “me fix”?

Solution 1

Do not use me or us as the subject of a sentence. Use the pronouns I or we instead.

Correct: Dad, Ben, and I fix breakfast.

Problem 2

Using I or we in the predicate

Incorrect: Officer Lee helps we cross the street.

Where does we come—before the verb or after it?

Solution 2

Use the pronouns me or us after an action verb.

Correct: Officer Lee helps us cross the street.

Problem 3

Confusing contractions and possessive pronouns

Using a Contraction for a Possessive

Pronoun: Please take you're seat.

Can you say
"You are seat"?

Solution 3

A possessive pronoun shows who or what owns something. A pronoun-verb contraction is a shortened form of a pronoun and a verb. It has an apostrophe.

Using a Possessive Pronoun Correctly:

Please take your seat.

Practice Write the sentences. Be sure to write all pronouns, contractions, or possessive pronouns correctly.

1. Ben and I study. Tomorrow he and me have a test.
2. Mom helps Ben and me. She gives him and I a problem.
3. It's not so hard. Its really easy.
4. Mom said, "You're ready. You're brother is ready, too."

Incorrect Use of Adjectives

- You can use adjectives to compare people, places, and things.
- Add -er to an adjective when you compare two nouns.
- Add -est to an adjective to compare more than two nouns.

Problem 1

Using -er or -est incorrectly

Incorrect: Our pine tree is tallest than our oak tree.

Are you comparing two or more than two?

Solution 1

Count how many people, places, or things you are comparing. Then add -er or -est.

Correct: Our pine tree is taller than our oak tree.

Practice Write each sentence. Be sure to write adjectives that compare correctly.

1. Toads have shorter back legs than frogs. Frogs have smoothest skin than toads.
2. What is the world's longest fish? The whale shark is the longer fish of all.
3. Lions are faster than zebras. Are zebras fastest than rabbits?
4. The ostrich is the largest bird of all. The hummingbird is the smaller bird of all.
